

JAMIE RUSSELL – Writer Profile

Hi, I'm Jamie, I'm 46 1/2 years old and this is awesome. I've never really done any creative writing, this is my first competition, and a few months ago I didn't even know they existed. So, as you can imagine, I'm absolutely amazed and delighted to even be writing this bit!

I've always enjoyed thinking creatively but at the same time fully accepting I have neither the focus, patience nor time to do anything further with it (excuses?). Maybe lockdown helped? This time, I saw the ad, thought I'd give it a go and I'm really glad I did.

"Decisions of fate" was a fun struggle, a lot of work, and the words left are but a pinch of the garbage thrown away. Anyone who even got 1500 coherent words on the page did a great job, so congratulations to the winners and everyone else who entered.
